Notes

*The alleged marriage between Mycroft I and Lady Catherina was never acknowledged publicly by the parties; the King rode to war the morning after the claimed date of the private ceremony and did not return and his bride died in childbirth slightly less than seven months later.

Iphigenia was the granddaughter of Penelope, Dowager Duchess of Alwent, the sister of Queen Ismenia.

The coat of arms decorating the Gaaldine Family tree is that of Charis of Gondal, and that decorating the Gondal family tree is that of Sherlock of Gaaldine.

Children dying in infancy or without issue have been omitted from the tree for the sake of simplicity.
